

PLAYER SELECTION PROCESS

11 & 12 --- BOYS

Season 2010

For Sanctioned Little League Tournament Teams

FOR 2010 SEASON THERE WILL BE TWO 11 YEAR OLD ONLY TEAMS AND ONE 12 YEAR OLD TEAM.

- 1. Tournament team players should be selected upon their playing ability and eligibility. The rosters should include sufficient pitching strength to meet tournament schedules.
- 2. It is not required that players be selected for the position they occupy during the regular season.
- 3. (Majors) 11 & 12 year old divisions. On or before June 7, each player will vote for 10 players from their entire division who they feel should be on the 11 and 12 year old team. The votes will be tabulated by any two of the following individuals: the League President, Division Vice President and the player agent. The ten players with the most votes will earn one point each. If more than one player ties for the 10th position, they each will receive one point. (Note: Players cannot vote for players on your team). If a player is voted onto the 11/12 year old team, they are removed from the 11 year old team voting.
- 4. The major managers will then vote for the top 10 players from their division they feel should be selected to the tournament team. Managers can vote for players from the team they manage. Each manager vote earns one point. If a player is voted onto the 11/12 year old team, they are removed from the 11 year old team voting.
- 5. Any two of the following individuals: The League President, Division Vice President, the Player Agent, will tabulate the votes from the managers and the players and the top 10 vote getters are the players selected to the tournament team
- 6. If there is a tie on the final votes, after all players and managers vote, both players go on the team and the manager has one less player to choose on his own.
- 7. The elected manager will choose the remaining players to fill his roster (12 or 13 players – managers choice) based on team needs and pitching.
- 8. On or before June 7, each 11 year old player will vote for the twenty (20) players from their entire division they feel should be on the 11 year old team. Note, this voting by the 11 year old player is in addition to the voting in #3 above. The votes will be tabulated by any two of the following individuals: The League President, Division Vice President and the Player agent. The player votes will then be weighted based on the player receiving the most votes and down to number 20. If more than one player ties for the 20th position, they each will receive one point. (Note, Players cannot vote for players on your team). The major managers will meet and discuss the players they feel should be selected to the tournament team. Each manager will rank the top 20 players in the age division in the order of their ability. This ranking will then be weighted to determine the top 20 players.

9. The weighted votes of the players and the managers will be combined to determine the total votes for the top 20 players who will be on the all star team.

10. If there is a tie on the final votes, after all players and managers vote, both players go on the team.

11. The two all star managers of the 11 year old teams will each pick 10 players from the list of 20. The selection will be done in alternating fashion with the first pick determined by a coin toss. Managers will make every effort to be sure each team has adequate pitching and catchers.

12. The elected manager may choose the remaining players to fill his roster (12 - 13 players – managers choice) based on team needs and pitching. These selections are subject to the approval of the division player agent.

13. The tournament teams will be posted no sooner than June 15th.
